

Indigenous Women Classified as Having a Low Motivation to Reform (2012–2018)

On top of their high security level, dynamic risk, and static risk, Indigenous women are classified as having low motivation to change and reform compared to White women.

